LAST DESPERATE EFFORT

May Be Made by Kuropatkin to Relieve Port Arthur-Japanese Landing More Troops.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 2.-If an emergency should arise the Russian squadron at Port Arthur will sail out of the harbor every ship will go to the bottom rather than surrender. If the vessels are compelled to run the gauntlet of the whole Japanese navy they will risk it in the hope of sinking a few of Adimarl Togo's ships before being sunk themselves. It can safely be predicted that the squadron will not wait until the last moment before going out. The Admiralty seems to entertain no fear if the situation at Port Arthur becomes like a rat in a trap. Rear Admiral Wittsoeft's dispatch, given out yesterday, gave assurances on this point. A portion which was not made public said that every ship except the Pobleda was now ready to go to sea at a moment's notice and that the channel was clear. He confirmed the belief which existed here that the Japanese will continue their efforts to block the channel made plans accordingly. In the opinion of the most competent military critics the a general attack is risked, and this is not considered possible in less than three weeks.

The correspondent of the Paris Echo, tel- SIX PERSONS CRUSHED TO egraphing his paper from here, says: "Viceroy Alexieff and General Kuropatkin, having asked the Emperor to settle their disputes, his Majesty summoned a council of war, including Minister of War Sakharoff, Marine Minister Avellan and Minister of the Interior Piehve. The council debated for several hours at Tsarkoe Selo. There is reason to believe that the necessity of preserving the naval base at Port Arthur and the loss of prestige that the fall of Port Arthur would entail were the arguments which prevailed in the council. General Kuropatkin has therefore been | RALPH advised to attempt to relieve the fortress, but to act with the greatest prudence.

'A general whom I interviewed on the subject of the council said: 'If Kuropatkin | Negro Who Is Said to Have Lived is weak enough to advance he will commit a serious blunder. The number of his troops is insufficient, and the conditions inder which he would act are unfavorable. He might meet an almost irreparable reverse, and Port Arthur be further from relief than ever. If we try to relieve Port Arthur we will be doing exactly what the Japanese hope."

STAKELBERG MOVING SOUTH WITH 14,000 MEN

LONDON, June 6.-The Daily Mail's Nieu-Chwang correspondent, cabling under date of June 2, says: "General Stakelberg, with 14,000 Russians made up of artillery, cavalry and infantry, has marched south of Liao-Yang in the direction of Wafangtien. "Large forces of Chinese bandits are col-

"This is a most formidable army," he says, "and it will be a marvelous achievement to carry Norwalk, right arm injured; C. H. The day was marked by sensations. A resolution relieving delegates from their instructions was adopted. Then there was a jump to Lowden, whose vote on the sixty-ninth ballot was swelled to 5731/2, while Yates's support fell off from 471 on the sixty-seventh ballot to 388, Deneen's from 3861/2 to 3581/2. Hamlin's from 118 to 85, Warner's from 39 to 27, Pierce's from 26 to 24, and Sherman's from 53 to 43.

On the seventieth ballot Lowden's total went up to 60114, on the seventy-first to 6041/2, on the seventy-second to 6141/2 and on the seventy-third reached its high point, 6311/2. On the next four ballots it was 6201/4. 599%, 537% and 532%. It requires 752 votes to nominate, and Lowden therefore came within 122 votes of the coveted prize.

During the balloting there was much excitement, and on the seventy-third, when Lowden came within about a score votes of the nomination, there was great enthusiasm. After the seventy-fourth ballot there was a small riot. The Yates men started the of Springfield, W. J. Butler and other Hamlin men leaped upon the tables and tore it down. Yates men rescued it and put it up back of the platform. Chairman Cannon made a statement saying Yates was not responsible for the incident and that he (Cannon) had ordered the banner taken down. He declared that the delegates must compromise and called attention to the fact the convention by its inaction was Illinois but in the entire Nation. "Let's nominate a ticket, and let's do it to-day.' There was not a vote against the resolution, but when the roll was called on the sixty-seventh ballot there was no substantial change from the ballots of the previous day.
